Abstract

This article was written in response to an article written by a member of the Japan Renewal Society entitled: Why should the superior Japanese people expand their territory by conquering the inferior peoples of the world. In this article, it stated that in order to conquer the world, they need first to conquer Asia, and in order to conquer Asia, they need to first conquer China. To achieve that, they will need the help of the United States of America as their willing partner. I shall list some of the historical facts as I remembered them including the secret Yalta conference, in which President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States of America betrayed Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of the Republic of China.
